PERSONALS.

Mr. N. J. Hilday returned today from New York.

Mr. Alva Atkins and wife returned this morning from Mayfield.

Traveling Auditor R. Adams, of the I. C., was in the city today.

Engineer E. H. Bower, of the Illinois Central, is at the Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. White are parents of a 12-pound boy, born last night.

Trainmaster J. A. Frates, of the Memphis division, is in the city today.

Mr. Will Phillips, the queensware drummer, of Cincinnati, is at the Palmer.

Dr. T. J. Gould, of Box, Tenn., passed through the city today, en route to St. Louis.

John Fletcher, who resides near Gip Husband's farm above the city, is in a precarious condition of pneumonia.

Misses Maud and Gertrude Brent, of Columbus, O., arrived this afternoon on a visit to Mr. John Donovan and family.

SOCIAL TIPS.

A Few Events in Society Tonight and Tomorrow.

The Cumberland Presbyterian church will tonight at the lecture room at the church, give a social reunion. There will be music and conversation, and an enjoyable evening is anticipated.

The Young Ladies' Circle Club is being entertained this afternoon by Misses Lillian and Clara Thompson.

The German Club will tonight give its regular dance at Elks' Hall, and a large crowd will no doubt be in attendance.

The Magazine Club meets tomorrow afternoon with Miss Julia Scott.

The harness and saddle makers will enjoy their first annual dance at the Palmer House tomorrow evening.

NEW SCHEME.

Trains Pull into the Union Depot Head First.

The Illinois Central began an experiment today in running passenger trains into the union depot. Ever since the depot was built the trains have been run down Ninth street and backed into the depot ready to go out head first.

Today a new plan was inaugurated and the locomotive, being first, the engines changed at the incline, and the train backed out to Ninth street and turned on the "Y" there.

It is the opinion of the railroad men that the experiment will not prove successful. It was tried soon after the depot was built and resulted in failure.

A LONG RUN.

Fire Department Called to Fourth and Broad This Morning.

The fire department was called out this morning about 10:30 o'clock by an alarm from box 54 at the corner of Fourth and Broad.

At the residence of Mrs. Thielman, on South Fourth near Broad, the woodwork about an old fashioned fireplace caught fire and there was quite a blaze when it was discovered.

The flames were subdued before the fire department arrived, however, enough little damage except to the furniture near by, which was considerably scorched.

The new fire station is but a few yards from the house.

NEW DANCING CLUB.

Has Been Organized On a New Plan.

A new dancing club has been organized by a number of well known young men of the city on a new plan. It will give four private dances and one public ball, a month at Stegar's Hall, and it will teach its members how to dance if any become members who cannot dance. A member for the club has not yet been selected, and the initiation fee will be nominal. The young men are all energetic and highly respected, and expect to make the new club a success.

GOT A JURY.

John Lemley and the Others Now on Trial.

The work of securing a jury in the case against John Lemley, Bart and Ed Lynn, at Metropolis, for the murder of Ben Ladd, was completed yesterday afternoon after a special venire of seventy-five men had been exhausted.

Capt. Thomas is for the defense, and part of the evidence was heard yesterday afternoon.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Items of Interest Relative to the Railroads and Railroad People.

N. C. AND ST. L. MILEAGE. Master Mechanic C. G. Potter is confined to his bed today with indisposition.

Conductor Weddle is back from Humboldt, where he went to attend his father's funeral.

John Kelton, the roundhouse foreman is on deck again, back from his visit home over in Illinois.

The Mileage has been crowded out for a day or so to give room for the president's message.

Mr. Ed. Etter, who has been down with rheumatism for four weeks, was out today. Ed. looks puny and is much reduced.

Yardmaster Jack Mortland is at home in bed with a spell of grippe.

Switchman W. A. Perry is running the yard in his stead.

W. C. Carson, the night operator at Paris, has been transferred to Lexington, Tenn., to occupy a similar place there.

Editor Jim Lemon, of the "Journal," was in on the morning train from his home at Benton, where he has been sick for several days.

Miss Jessie Bevans, of Yates City, Ill., a sister of Mrs. Lowe, came home with Sam and will spend the winter with them at 1223 South Sixth street.

Harvey Garner, the "kid con," catches the new local on the south end, and made his first trip yesterday on the run from Lexington to Memphis.

Officers Ullman and Senger are once more traversing the byways of our end of the city. They are ever vigilant and a terror to the evil minded.

Conductor Byers Robertson is at home confined with a hurt in the back caused by a fall from his hay loft. He was able to be out yesterday on crutches.

The pay train will be here tomorrow. She is ahead of time this trip as the company is desirous of letting the employees have their pay for Christmas.

Mr. J. C. Butler, a former section foreman but now with the bridge force is at his home in Mayfield, a sufferer with a terribly sore leg. It is said that gangrene is it is giving him great trouble.

Engineer Sam Lowe returned home Sunday from his trip to St. Louis. If he had a good time, but the usually has that, no matter where he is.

W. E. Sanders, the night owl at Lexington for so long a time, relinquishes his watch there and opens up Somerville. It is safe to say that every time "So!" is ticked on the wire Walter will answer "I L."

Mr. Wm. E. King, Jr., the handsome and genial young machinist, left for Murray on the 4 o'clock train. Tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock he leads to the hymeneal altar one of Calloway's fairest daughters.

Edgar, the ten year old son of Engineer Henry Buck disappeared from home yesterday afternoon. It is thought that he went out to his aunt's some six miles in the country, and his father went out there to look after him this a. m.

Born to the wife of J. L. Webb the foreman of the yard gang, at 6:30 Sunday evening, a bouncing boy baby from his present huge proportions he bids fair to rival his brothers and sister the "fat" little people on Eleventh street. Dr. Reddick was the officiating physician.

Today the stockholders of the N. C. & St. L. met in Nashville for the purpose of ratifying the lease of this division, consisting of the old P. T. & A. and the Tennessee Midland roads. It is expected that the matter of running the passenger trains on this division into the Union Depot here will be taken up also.

Among the car repairers is a man named Sullivan who, from his great fondness for everything pertaining to the prize ring, has been dubbed by the boys as "John L." After reading the newspaper accounts of the recent go between Fitzsimmons and Sharkey he donned the mittens made all the passes and felts as described in the papers. In dodging his imaginary antagonist in one round he ducked a little too low and struck his face on the back of a chair, just below his left optic and he now carries as pretty a black eye as if Fitz had dealt him one of his celebrated left-handed punches. His room mate gave it away, but "John L." claims a chip flew and struck him while at work.

Marshal Richardson, of Kuttawa, Happens In.

Marshal Richardson, of Bardwell, who arrested Mahan, the Smithland murderer, was in the city yesterday with Attorney Ray, whom he has engaged to assist him in his trouble at Smithland in securing the $200 reward from the State.

Marshal Richardson it appears, himself presented the prisoner at the Livingston county jail and took a receipt, and the question now involved in Detective Greer's injunction suit is whether or not an officer is entitled to any reward for capturing a criminal.

ALL WERE AFRAID. They Didn't Want to Attend the Shelby Trial.

All the witnesses summoned from the city to appear in behalf of Mort Shelby at the Taylor-Shelby trial at Bandana today managed to get out of going. Some were sick, others claimed they had to testify in the circuit court here, while others gave other reasons. It is likely that Shelby will secure a continuance on these grounds.
